D. Scientific Activities and Publications

My scientific interest and relevant experience, as evidenced by my personal publications that follow, cover issues of tourism policy, planning for development and education. Also evaluation of investment programmes, productivity and Total Factor Productivity, of human and physical capital and technology (doctoral thesis).

I have participated as a speaker at many conferences in Greece and abroad. These include conferences held by most of Greek universities, and international entities like Regional Science Association, Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, Commission of the European Communities, International Urban Development Association, Portuguese Association for Tourism Research and Development, State, Russian Academy of Sciences, Leontief Institute, Royal Geographical Society, Institute of British Geographers, and others. I maintain cooperation on scientific / research issues with many universities, organizations and institutions. A list of publications follows.
